Forty-Sixth Annual National Indian Timber Symposium
"Landscape: The Forest Through the Trees"
June 12 - 15, 2023

Host: Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe
Walker, MN

Welcome

The Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe welcomes you to the Intertribal Timber Council's Forty-Sixth Annual National Indian Timber Symposium held at the Northern Lights Casino, Hotel & Event Center in Walker, MN. This year's theme is "Landscape: The Forest Through the Trees." What does it mean to see the forest through the trees? This is an idea the Leech Lake Reservation has been spending considerable time with. A forest's benefits extend far beyond the financial value of its timber and other commercial products. The Leech Lake Band, members, and staff define their forests as relatives to live with, not to lord over. These forests offer sustenance for band members and wildlife alike. It also provides medicine and identity. Succinctly put, the forest is home. During the symposium we would like to impress these ideas and welcome you to enjoy the forests of the Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe.

Harvesting wild rice is a practice enjoyed by the Leech Lake Band every August and September as it ripens. Traditional ricing practice involves two people in a canoe. One person uses a ricing pole to maneuver the canoe throughout the rice beds. The other person uses two cedar sticks to “knock” the rice from the plant into the canoe with sticks called knockers. Lunch (provided).

8:00 am – 4:30 pm

Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe (LLBO) Tribal Tour

Coordinator

Brandy Toft, Interim Environmental Director, LLBO, Cass Lake, MN

Location / Description

Bus loading from 7:30 am - 8:00 am at Northern Lights Casino Event Center. Each stop will allow for 2 hours, including driving time to get to next sites. Lunch (provided) at Knutzen Dam. Guests welcome.

Stop 1

Snowshoe Hare Habitat Restoration Tribal Forest Protection Act (TFPA) Pilot Project

This stop was a TFPA proposal submitted to the Chippewa National Forest to restore areas adjacent to northern white cedar lowlands for secondary habitat to assist populations of snowshoe hare, a keystone species on the Leech Lake Reservation.

Tanya Roerick, Wildlife Biologist, LLBO, Cass Lake, MN

Cory Mlodik, Wildlife Biologist, U.S. Forest Service, Chippewa National Forest, Blackduck, MN

Stop 2

Multiple TFPA site for Red Pine Plantation Ecosystem Restoration and Fire Ecology Restoration

This stop will show the initial TFPA project to return red pine plantations to a more ecologically functioning system. It is also a site of TFPA for Fire Restoration which is being set the site up for a return of fire. This stop has also become our 2018 Farm Bill 638 Pilot Authority with USDA Project that is drafted as a combination of plantation thinning/ diversification work while utilizing Reserved Treaty Rights Lands (RTRL) grant funds to work towards eliminating fuel loading to plan for fire restoration.

Keith Karnes, Forestry Director, LLBO, Cass Lake, MN

Michael Stansberry, Forest Supervisor, U.S. Forest Service, Chippewa National Forest, Cass Lake, MN

Stop 3

Lydick Prescribed Burn, Fire Restoration TFPA Site

This stop is one of the first locations where LLBO's Fire Restoration TFPA has prescribed fire that is being restored to the landscape. Ideally, we intend to utilize sites like this as anchor restoration sites that prescribed restorative fire can expand upon in years to come.

BJ Gotchie, Interagency Fire Restoration Coordinator, LLBO, Cass Lake, MN

Mike Rice, Deputy Fire Staff Officer, U.S. Forest Service, Chippewa National Forest, Grand Rapids, MN

Stop 4

RTRL Sand Plains Pine Project Monitoring

This site is utilizing RTRL grant funding to monitor the combination of work being done in a landscape project titled the Sand Plains Pine Project (SP3). SP3 is combining aggressive variable density plantation thinning, hazardous fuels hazard removal (multiple entries) and planned fire to restore this 50,000-acre landscape to a fire dependent community.

Kate Hagsten, Plants Program Director, LLBO, Cass Lake, MN

Annette Drewes, PhD, Forest Restoration Partnership Manager, The Nature Conservancy, Bemidji, MN
