Master of Forest Resources in Forest Business Management

INVESTING IN THE FUTURE OF TRIBAL FORESTRY: PROMOTING BUSINESS LEADERSHIP, ECOLOGICAL KNOWLEDGE, AND EMERGING MARKETS FOR ECOSYSTEM SERVICES

Graduate Assistantships

Harley Langdale, Jr. Center for Forest Business, Warnell School of Forestry and Natural Resources, University of Georgia

Master of Forest Resources (MFR) in Forest Business Management graduate assistantships are designed to develop outstanding Native American leaders in forest business, economics, planning and management

Custom tailored coursework in forestry, business and leadership

Exceptional professional internship opportunities

$20,448 stipend for two years plus full tuition waiver

Application requirements: Bachelor's degree (any major) from an accredited program

For more information and to apply, contact Dr. Jacek Siry (jsiry@uga.edu) and Dr. Pete Bettinger (pbettinger@warnell.uga.edu)

Harley Langdale Jr. Center for Forest Business
UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA